The history of Nuestra Senora
del Pilar as related by
Mary of Agreda

Jesus, speaking to Holy Mary, said: “My most beloved Mother, I desire that thou go to Saragossa where my faithful servant James now is, and command him to return to Jerusalem. But before he leaves that city, he is to build a temple in thy name and title, where thou shalt be venerated and invoked for the welfare of that country, for My glory and pleasure, and that of the most blessed Trinity.”

At the command of the Lord, a great number of angels formed a royal throne of a most resplendent cloud and placed thereon Queen and Mistress of all creation. The purest Mother, borne by the hands of the seraphim, departed for Saragossa in Spain. The Lord ordered the angels to move along singing hymns of praise and jubilee to their Queen in choirs of sweetest harmony.

Saint James was encamped with his disciples along the banks of the river Ebro. Some disciples had fallen asleep; others were absorbed in prayer. The procession of the angels spread out and sang still louder, so that Saint James and his disciples could hear them from afar. All were filled with sweetness and wonder, which caused them to remain speechless and shed tears of joy. They saw in the sky a light brighter than the sun; it seemed like a large luminous globe. The angels carried, with great veneration, a small column hewn of marble or jasper; and a not very large image of their Queen, made of some other material.

Seated on her throne in the cloud and surrounded by the angelic choirs the Queen of heaven manifested Herself to Saint James. In wonderful beauty and refulgence the great Lady far outshone all the angels. The blessed Apostle prostrated himself in deepest reverence and venerated the Mother of his Creator and Redeemer. He was shown the image and the pillar or column in the hands of the angels. The loving Queen gave him her blessing in the name of her divine Son and continued: “My son James, this place the most high and omnipotent God of heaven has destined to be consecrated by thee for the erection of a temple and house of prayer, where, under my patronage and name He wishes to be glorified and magnified, where the treasures of His right hand shall be distributed, and all His ancient mercies shall be opened up for the faithful through my intercession, if they ask for them in true faith and sincere piety. In the name of the Almighty I promise them great favors and blessings of sweetness, and my protection and assistance; for this is to be my house and temple, my inheritance and possession. A pledge of this truth and of my promise shall be this column with my image placed upon it. In the temple which thou shalt build for me, it shall remain and be preserved. Thou shalt immediately begin to build this temple of God, and after thou hast completed it, thou shalt depart for Jerusalem; for my divine Son wishes thee to offer the sacrifice of thy life in the same place where He offered His.”

The great Queen ordered the holy angels to set up the column, and upon it the sacred image, in the same place where they now stand. As soon as the column and the image were in place, the angels and the holy Apostles recognized that spot as a house and portal of God, holy ground consecrated as a temple to the glory of the Most High and the invocation of his holy Mother. Saint James prostrated himself upon the ground and with the holy angels celebrated with new canticles the first dedication of a temple instituted in this world under the name and title of the great Mistress of heaven and earth. This was the happy origin of the sanctuary of our Lady of the Pillar in Saragossa, which is justly called the angelic chamber, the house of God and of His purest Mother, worthy of the veneration of the whole world.

Queen of the Holy Rosary, O bless us as we pray
And offer thee our roses in garlands day by day.
While from our Father’s garden, with loving hearts and bold,
We gather to thine honor buds white, and red and gold.

O Queen of the Holy Rosary, each mystery blends with thine:
The sacred life of Jesus, in ev’ry step divine.
Thy soul was His fair garden, thy virgin breast His throne,
Thy thoughts His faithful mirror, reflecting Him alone.

O Queen of the Holy Rosary, we share thy joy and pain, and long to see the glory of Christ’s triumphant reign!
O teach us, holy Mary, to live each mystery, and gain by patient suff’ring the glory won by thee!

Sweet Lady of the Rosary, white roses let us bring,
And lay them ‘round thy footstool, before our Infant King.
For nest’ling in thy bosom, God’s Son was fain to be
The Child of thy obedience, and spotless purity.

Dear Lady of the Rosary, red roses cast we down;
But let thy fingers weave them into a worthy crown.
For how can we poor sinners do aught but weep with thee
When in thy train we follow our God to Calvary?
