The Mercies of Mary!

The woman who penned this story was an English convert and journalist who attended the Procession in Honor of Our Lady of Fatima on May 13, 1949. It is given here, greatly abridged, to encourage the increase of your own Love for and Confidence in our Heavenly Mother.

A Catholic Society in America had sent forty-eight dozen roses, representing the 48 States of America, and one dozen for the Conversion of Russia. These lovely white roses, emblem of purity and of love, had been placed at the base of Our Lady's statue, which is always carried in procession through the great crowds at the commencement of the midday ceremonies on the 13th.

I beheld with compassion the long rows of those suffering from all manner of illness . . . One girl awakened my pity so much that I went and stood right behind her. I learned she had lain on her back for the past four years, stricken with paralysis of the spine. She had asked to be brought to Fatima, against the wishes of her doctor.

Slowly the Rosary procession came up the narrow pathway. My eyes were fixed on the calm features of the statue. It seemed as if Our Lady wore a happy expression, being filled with joy to see such devotion. I almost missed observing the slight figure of a sailor who suddenly appeared out of the throng. Quickly he plucked a single rose from the base of the statue as it passed, and turning around, bent over the still form of the sick girl. I saw his lips move, but could not catch his words as he placed the flower gently near her heart. Then he disappeared just as quickly as he had come.

After Mass, I watched the Bishop of El Paso bearing the glittering golden Monstrance. While he passed along the long line of the sick, the chant of the pilgrims rose - "Lord, that I might see . . . that I might walk . . . that I might regain my strength."

The Bishop paused before "my" invalid, slowly made the Sign of the Cross with the Monstrance, and passed on. The girl struggled into a sitting position, and against the vain attempts of mother and nurse to restrain her, got to her feet and removed the dark glasses that had protected her weakened eyes. She refused the stretcher that was brought to take her to the white hospital where she would be examined.

Later I was allowed to enter the hospital room where the girl sat on the bed, laughing and bright-eyed. I remembered the sailor, and in he came, his face wreathed in smiles, the tears in his eyes betraying his deep emotion. I inquired as to his name, and how he knew the girl.

He replied, "Senhora, never have I seen this girl before. My ship arrived in Lisbon only yesterday. Knowing that here today would be held the ceremonies in honor of Our Lady, I came to pay homage to the Patroness of my country. Standing in the great crowd, I was admiring the procession, particularly the statue with the roses. Suddenly a voice seemed to whisper in my ear, 'take one of those roses, and lay it on the heart of that very sick girl. Tell her that if she has Faith, she will be cured.' That is all I can tell you, Senhora. It was some strange force which made me do such a thing."

A drama of real life, played under the hot sun on a mountain in Portugal. A sailor, a dying girl, a white rose, an American Bishop, and an English convert. To each one of us, for some particular reason, was given this amazing experience.

♥ In Fatima's cove on the thirteenth of May; the Virgin Maria appeared at mid-day. ♥

To three shepherd children the Virgin then spoke a message so hopeful, of peace for all folk.

With sweet Mother's pleading, she asked us to pray, do penance, be modest, the Rosary each day.

Hail, Refuge of sinners! Hail, Star of the Sea!
Hail, Queen of Creation! Our hope is in thee.

All hail, Virgin Mary! This Star guides our way, our country's Protectress, America's Way!

FATHER WILL ANNOUNCE THE SCHEDULE FOR THE ALL SAINTS PARTY AND THE HEAVEN HOUSE. WE WILL SEND OUT A SCHEDULE THIS NEXT WEEK AS WELL.
